

EXTENDED CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

(May 15, 2016)

Undergraduate Conference in Moral and Political Philosophy
Department of Philosophy
Central European University, Budapest
2-3 September 2016

This year, we invite undergraduates from around the world to CEU to discuss their innovative approaches to topics in the field of moral and political philosophy, broadly construed, together with CEU faculty and graduate students. We welcome abstracts on topics ranging from meta-ethical inquiries about the fundamental nature of values and reasons, to particular issues in applied ethics and political philosophy; in including work that draws together different sub-fields. Participants at the conference will submit a paper in advance, and will have fifteen minutes to present a summary of their paper at the conference. Paper presentations will be followed by short responses from invited readers, and then further time for discussion. There will be plenty of opportunity for feedback from, and interaction with, many CEU faculty members and graduate students who work in moral and political philosophy, including faculty members from the departments of Philosophy, Political Science, and the School of Public Policy.

Keynotes:

Prof. Zoltan Miklosi, CEU: "Immigration and the system of nation states"
Prof. Emma Bullock, CEU: "The prospects and perils of justified paternalism"

The conference will be held in Budapest from September 2 to September 3, 2016. Current undergraduate students from any university are eligible to participate. The language of the conference is English.

Abstracts

Abstracts, in English and max. 500 words (excluding citations), prepared for blind review (include the title of your paper, but do not include your name or any other identifying information on the same page as the abstract.), should be sent in Word or pdf format. Please attach a cover sheet, in a separate Word or pdf file, that includes: (1) the title of your paper, (2) your name, (3) the name of your university, (4) current degree program, and (5) expected date of graduation.

Please email your abstract with cover sheet to PhilUndergradConf@ceu.edu

Extended Deadline: Sunday, May 15, 2016 (midnight)

Students will be notified about acceptance of abstracts by May 31, 2016.

Paper requirements

Papers should be 2000 to max. 3000 words long, in English.

Applicants whose abstract has been accepted for presentation will be asked to submit their full papers by: Friday, July 15, 2016.

Instructions for paper submission and registration will be sent to those students whose abstracts are accepted. A Best Paper award will be given for the best contributed paper, in the opinion of the organizing committee.

Registration

Accepted conference participants must register for the conference by Wednesday, June 15, 2016.

Conference registration, refreshments, and a conference dinner will be free of charge.

We will offer the following discount accommodation packages, which must be booked and paid for at time of registration:

- Accommodation with breakfast for three nights (Sept 1-4) in twin rooms in the CEU Kerepesi Residence Center in Budapest, and a 72-hour Budapest public transport pass: 45 EUR (subject to availability).
- Accommodation with breakfast for three nights (Sept 1-4) in single rooms in the CEU Kerepesi Residence Center in Budapest, and a 72-hour Budapest public transport pass: 75 EUR (subject to availability).

Please send inquiries to: PhilUndergradConf@ceu.edu

The conference web site is at: <https://philosophy.ceu.edu/events/UGCMPP>