

To all colleagues and students at the Catholic University in Lvov
To all colleagues and students in Ukraine

Dear Friends,

With deep feelings of sorrow and indignation, we have obtained the news of the killing of Bohdan Solchanyk, a lecturer of History at your University.

We are praying for you, and with you and, along with the Psalmist, we are looking out for the days when „the righteous will flourish, and the abundance of peace will endure so long as the moon.“ (Psalm 72:7)

God protect you in your struggle for peace and justice!

Please, accept our condolences over all the victims who died on Independence Square in Kyiv, among them over your colleague Bohdan Solchanyk, on behalf of many teachers and students of the Protestant Theological Faculty and of the Institute of Philosophy and Religious Studies of the Faculty of Arts, both of Charles University in Prague, Czech Republic.

Jan A. Dus
Lecturer of New Testament Greek
jadus@etf.cuni.cz

Lenka Karfíková
Professor of Philosophy
karfikl@volny.cz

Prague, March 1, 2014

Condolence List:
<http://nomadva.webgarden.cz/rubriky/novinky/kondolence-do-lvova/>